Course Description
This in-depth course, sponsored by the Harvard Medical School Departments of Anesthesia and Continuing Education, is intended to provide anesthesia practitioners with a comprehensive review of the most important advances in clinical anesthesiology and each of its major subspecialties, including ambulatory, thoracic, pediatric, obstetric, regional, and cardiac anesthesia. The program will include lectures, panel discussions, problem-based discussions, and workshops, along with ample time for interaction with faculty.

The course will include basic principles, while emphasizing clinical problems and controversial aspects of patient care. We will continue our popular format from previous years, with intensive all-day programs and evening workshops to provide hands-on instruction and practice, demonstrating our commitment to lifelong learning and providing a dynamic continuing educational experience to clinical and research professionals in the field of anesthesiology.

Learning Objectives
Upon completion of this course, participants will be able to:
• Adopt principles for practicing perioperative ultrasound
• Diagnose and develop a treatment plan for cerebrovascular emergencies
• Analyze OR efficiency metrics, assemble the evidence, and integrate into clinical practice
• Adopt best practices in preoperative evaluation and risk assessment
• Integrate updated guidelines into practice when managing the difficult airway
• Implement current principles for appropriate opioid use and pain management
• Adopt the latest evidence-based practices in obstetric and thoracic anesthesia
• Incorporate the latest ASA standards, guidelines and practice parameters into clinical practice
• Adopt best practices in managing patients with morbid obesity and sleep apnea
• Integrate evidence-based protocols when practicing regional anesthesia
• Adopt new drugs into anesthesia practice
